Seif gives his grandpa few rules to buy and sell safely online. First, he should always use a wellknown website to sell. Then, he should make sure the information he gives about something is true. Also, he shouldn't share personal information. Finally, if he has to meet someone in person, he should meet them in a public place and don't go alone.

When you go online to send messages, play video games, download an app, or just check your social media, it's important to remember a few simple rules that can keep you safe.

First, choose strong passwords. It's important to use a password that is a mix of letters, numbers, and special characters like!, &, or $. Long passwords are also a good idea as they are hard to guess. Never use your name or date of birth, your pet's name, or anything that hackers can guess from your social media.

Second, think before you post anything. When you post a comment or photo on social media, it stays there forever-even if you delete it from your account. Don't post or share anything nasty or false.

Finally, be careful of friend requests. Don't accept friend requests from people you don't know. Always tell your parents if someone you don't know sends you messages or wants to chat with you, and don't click on any links they send you. Never share personal information with anyone.

It's important to be eco-friendly at home to help the environment. Air conditioning, hot water, and electronic devices in our homes all use a lot of electricity. Making electricity uses a lot of the planet's resources. To save energy at home, switch off lights, TVs, computers, games consoles, tablets, and all of your electronic devices when they aren't in use. Don't leave them on stand-by as this still consumes a lot of energy. Showers are a great way to save water and energy. But don't spend a long time in the shower: set the alarm on your phone for five minutes and then stop! We can recycle a lot of things in our trash or even re-use them at home. Plastic bottles are a good example. Re-use them to make other things, for example a bird feeder, or a hanging basket for your plants.

4. Read the following text, then answer the questions:

Water scarcity is one of the most worrying problems facing the world today. Although water covers more than 70% of Earth's surface, two billion people don't have enough fresh, clean water for drinking, washing, cooking, and growing food. Even in countries where there are good water resources, the water cannot always reach the people who need it.

One of the reasons for water scarcity is climate change. On average, temperatures are higher than they were in the past. In some places, there is less rain, so there isn't as much water in lakes and rivers. Water scarcity affects people in different ways. Farmers, for example, can't grow as many crops as they used to. Without crops to sell, they can't earn enough money to pay for clean water.

It is important for understanding life in (3) _____ Egypt because the writing on its walls gives us very interesting and (4) _____ information about language and religion over 2,000 years ago.

4. Read the following text, then answer the questions:

Thanks to the fertile land near the River Nile, the Ancient Egyptians could grow crops and raise animals for food. They had lots of good quality ingredients, and they used them to cook a surprising variety of different dishes.

Bread was very popular and cheap to make. The Ancient Egyptians baked it in many different ways, often adding oil, spices or chopped vegetables to make it tastier. One kind of bread was aish baladi, which is still popular in Egypt today. However, in the past, people baked it slowly in special clay ovens which they heated with wood fires. Today, we can bake it quickly in electric ovens! Another food that was popular in Ancient Egypt was hummus. To make <code>it</code>, people boiled and mashed chickpeas, then mixed them with oil, garlic, and salt. In fact, there is an Egyptian recipe for hummus still used today that is nearly 1,000 years old!
